

Mr. Ahmed Al Jbori
Head of Investments
Binghatti Holding
United Arab Emirates

Ahmed Al-Jbori is a British national from Middle Eastern decent. He graduated with a high honours bachelor degree in Economics from the American University of Sharjah in 2005.

Professionally, Ahmed has seven years of experience in the investment field. He began his career serving as investment officer in the treasury department of a national shipping company, moving on to become Business Development Manager at Binghatti Holding, an international investment company based in Dubai, which is active in the Real Estate, FMCG and Construction sectors. After a two-year sabbatical in London starting in July 2012, Ahmed earned his fulltime MBA degree from London Business School, with a dual concentration in finance and private equity. He has since returned to Binghatti Holding as Head of Investments.

Ahmed has served, and continues to serve on numerous volunteer organisations including: President of the AUS Alumni Association, Past President on the Board of the AUS Alumni Association, Executive Officer for the London Business School Finance Club, Vice President for the London Business School Middle East Club, and Alumni representative on the AUS Business Advisory Council.